EQUALITY & DIVERSITY POLICY and ACTION PLAN

Vision, Values and Ethos

The Directors, Local Governing Bodies and each Academy within the OLW CMAT are deeply committed to the principles of equality. In each Academy we have a caring and supportive Academy ethos that seeks to value all individuals and ensure that they achieve their potential. Each Academy is active in its role in promoting equality of opportunity for everyone who makes up our Academy community.

Through our policies and practices we strive to eliminate all forms of discrimination and harassment that present barriers to both staff and students achieving their full potential. We actively promote positive, respectful attitudes and relationships between and amongst all members of our Academy community and encourage them to be active partners in the promotion of equality of opportunity in all aspects of Academy life and beyond.

We provide a broad and balanced curriculum in a happy, challenging environment where everyone can develop to their maximum potential and feel valued as individuals who can contribute to the life of our Academies and society in general.

We have robust and supportive policies in place that are underpinned by our Catholic ethos which ensures that our practices actively promote equality of opportunity amongst staff and do not in any way discriminate against any gender in any area of recruitment, retention, promotion, training or any aspect of employment.

We are committed towards ensuring that the development, implementation and monitoring of our equality action plan (evidenced in our MAT Improvement Plans and individual Academy Improvement Plans) is the vehicle for actively embedding equality within our policies and practices.

The underlying and overriding principle of our faith in Jesus Christ binds us together in love, understanding and mutual enrichment.

'You are, all of you, sons of God through faith in Christ Jesus. All baptised in Christ, you have all clothed yourself in Christ and there are no more distinctions between Jew and Greek, slave and free, male and female, but all of you are one in Christ Jesus.'

The Gospel itself leaves us in no doubt that our belief in its values should place us in the forefront of the movement for equality between all members of our community of Academies.

The Legal Context

We welcome our duties under the Equality Act 2010 to eliminate discrimination, advance equality of opportunity and foster good relations in relation to age (as appropriate), disability, ethnicity, gender (including issues of transgender, and of maternity and pregnancy), religion and belief and sexual identity.

We welcome our duty under the Education and Inspections Act 2006 to promote community cohesion.

We recognise that these duties reflect international human rights standards as expressed in the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child, the UN Convention on the Rights of People with Disabilities, and the Human Rights Act 1998.

We understand that from time to time further legislation and guidance is published by Government and relevant legal bodies and we will continually monitor and implement relevant policy and practice to ensure compliance.

Guiding Principles

In fulfilling the legal obligations cited above, we are guided by nine principles:

Principle 1: All learners, members of staff*, directors, governors and volunteers are of equal value

We see all learners and potential learners, and their parents and carers, members of staff, governors, directors and volunteers as of equal value:

- whatever their age
- whether or not they are disabled
- whatever their ethnicity, culture, national origin or national status
- whatever their gender and gender identity
- whatever their religious or non-religious affiliation or faith background
- whatever their sexual identity
- whether or not they are married or in a civil partnership
- whether or not they are pregnant or on maternity leave

(*Staff = all individuals working at all grades, including senior managers, employees, trainees, part-time and fixed-term employees, casual workers and agency staff)

Principle 2: We recognise and respect difference

Treating people equally (Principle 1 above) does not necessarily involve treating them all the same. Our policies, procedures and activities must not discriminate* but must nevertheless take account of differences of life-experience, outlook and background, and in the kinds of barrier and disadvantage which people may face, in relation to:

- age
- disability, so that reasonable adjustments are made
- ethnicity, so that different cultural backgrounds and experiences of prejudice are recognised
- gender, so that the different needs and experiences of each gender or gender identity, are recognised
- religion, belief or faith background
- sexual identity
- marital/civil partnership status
- pregnancy and maternity

*discrimination may be direct or indirect and it may occur intentionally or unintentionally

Principle 3: We foster positive attitudes and relationships, and a shared sense of cohesion and belonging

We intend that our policies, procedures and activities should promote:

- positive attitudes towards people of different ages and an absence of harassment of elderly people
- positive attitudes towards disabled people, good relations between disabled and non-disabled people, and an absence of harassment of disabled people
- positive interaction, good relations and dialogue between groups and communities different from each other in terms of ethnicity, culture, religious affiliation, national origin or national status, and an absence of prejudice-related bullying and incidents
- mutual respect and good relations between genders, and an absence of sexual and homophobic harassment
- mutual respect and good relations between people regardless of marital or civil partnership status
- positive attitudes towards those who are pregnant or have had children

Principle 4: We observe good equalities practice in staff recruitment, retention and development

We ensure that policies and procedures should benefit all employees and potential employees, for example in recruitment and promotion, and in continuing professional development:

- whatever their age
- whether or not they are disabled
- whatever their ethnicity, culture, religious affiliation, national origin or national status
- whatever their gender and sexual identity, and with full respect for legal rights relating to pregnancy and maternity
- whatever their marital or civil partnership status
- whether they may be pregnant or have had children

Principle 5: We aim to reduce and remove inequalities and barriers that already exist

In addition to avoiding or minimising possible negative impacts of our policies, we take opportunities to maximise positive impacts by reducing and removing inequalities and barriers that may already exist between:

- People of different ages
- disabled and non-disabled people
- people of different ethnic, cultural and religious backgrounds
- genders
- all sexualities, heterosexual and Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual and Transgender (LGBT)
- people of different marital status or civil partnership status
- people who may or may not be pregnant, or who may or may not have had children

Principle 6: We consult and involve widely

We engage with a range of groups and individuals to ensure that those who are affected by a policy or activity are consulted and involved in the design of new policies, and in the review of existing ones. We consult widely and will aim to involve:

- people of different ages
- disabled people as well as non-disabled
- people from a range of ethnic, cultural and religious backgrounds
- all genders
- all sexualities – heterosexual and Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual and Transgender
- all those with different marital/civil partnership statuses
- all those who may or may not be pregnant, and those who may or may not have had children

Principle 7: Society as a whole should benefit

We intend that our policies and activities should benefit society as a whole, both locally and nationally, by fostering greater social cohesion, and greater participation in public life of:

- people of different ages
- disabled people as well as non-disabled people of a wide range of ethnic, cultural and religious backgrounds
- all genders
- all sexualities – heterosexual and Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual and Transgender
- all people, regardless of marital/civil partnership status
- all people, regardless of whether or not they may be pregnant, or who may or may not have had children

Principle 8: We base our policies and practices on sound evidence

We maintain and publish quantitative and qualitative information which shows our compliance with the public sector equality duty (PSED) set out in clause 149 of the Equality Act 2010, and on the basis of which we decide on specific and measurable objectives.

Evidence relating to equalities is integrated into our self-evaluation documentation.

Principle 9: Measurable objectives

We formulate and publish specific and measurable objectives, based on the consultations we have conducted (principle 6) and the evidence we have collected and published (principle 8).

The objectives which we identify take into account national and local priorities and issues, as appropriate.

Our equality objectives are integrated into the Academy improvement plan.

We keep our equality objectives under review and report annually on progress towards achieving them.
